Gender Violence Over the Lifecycle

Spring 2018, 3 Credits (DS, WI)

Lectures: Wednesday 3:30pm-6pm

Room: Business Administration D103

Instructor: Hannah Liebreich

Office Hours: By appointment

Office: Saunders Hall Rm. 233 & Rm. 721K

Email: hannahli@hawaii.edu

Course Description from the Course Catalog: Examines the problem of violence, particularly sexual violence, as it relates to social institutions and the everyday lived experiences of various populations. Offers gendered perspective in activities aimed at prevention and treatment of violence, and cross-cultural perspectives. Prerequisite: SOC 300, WS 151, or consent.

Course Objectives –At the end of the course, you will be able to:

- Demonstrate clear and effective written communication skills.
- Define and describe essential course concepts.
- Describe and apply relevant theories for understanding gendered violence.
- Discuss data about culturally condoned and unaccepted gender violence.
- Discuss gender violence topics using empirical data from scholarly sources.
- Locate peer-reviewed journal articles and apply them to the study of gender violence.

Course Content Alert: This course will cover topics that may be sensitive in nature to some students including, but not limited to, violence, domestic violence, rape, hate crimes, sexism, racism, transphobia, and heterosexism. Throughout the semester we will cover real scenarios and use graphic images and language that may make some people feel uncomfortable. If you are a survivor of abuse or trauma, content may be triggering. If this class brings up any feelings you would like to discuss, the UH Mānoa Counseling and Student Development Center is available M-F 8:00-4:30 and can be reached at (808) 596-7927. If this class is not for you, please refer to MyUH to find out how to drop the class.

Teaching & Learning Methods: You will be exposed to lectures, small group discussions, class discussion, question and answer sessions, activities, videos, and other methods which are deemed beneficial to learning. Upon completion of this class, students will be able to evaluate sociological theories and use them to analyze and understand aspects of the social world related to gender and violence. Students will be able to analyze, and interpret data, and draw valid conclusions from their analyses. Students will also be able to demonstrate clear and effective verbal and written communication skills, and be able to apply them within the context of gendered violence.

Course and University Policies:

Attendance Policy: Regular class attendance is expected, and unexcused absences will be penalized. Please notify me by e-mail in advance if you expect to miss the class because of illness or some other issue. Depending on the issue, I will either excuse you from class or apply a penalty. Unexplained absences will incur a penalty. The class is small, and I would like to develop a class culture in which you learn from your peers, as well as from me and course materials. If you do miss class, it is your responsibility to contact another student regarding missed lecture materials, notes, assignments, etc. After speaking to another student and making copies of the missed materials, feel free to contact me with questions. I only give my lectures once; it is to your benefit to attend. Because we only meet once a week, if you fall behind it will be very difficult for you to catch up to the rest of the students.

Punctuality: Students' presence in the room for the full class time-period is expected. If you have a scheduling dilemma that makes punctuality difficult, you should reconsider your registration. Classes will begin and end on time.

Class Environment: Enrollment in this course indicates that you agree to conduct all discussions and interactions with thought, maturity, and respect for others' rights to differ. Discussion of personal beliefs is encouraged, and will be conducted in a manner that maintains a climate conducive to the learning of all class members. Students at the University of Hawai'i - Mānoa are encouraged to exercise personal responsibility and self-discipline and to engage in the rigors of discovery and scholarship. Cell phones, social media, and e-mail should be turned off for the duration of class. Computers will be permitted in class with the provision that the above stipulation is maintained. Please use your computer as a useful tool to apply to class work, rather than as a distraction from class activities.

Academic Honesty / Plagiarism: Compliance with strict standards of academic honesty is expected. Please refer to the UHM Student Conduct Code, including the revisions in E7.208, paying special attention to the sections on academic honesty. Note: plagiarism is the failure to correctly cite and/or reference any words or ideas which are not your own. You should always reference the sources of your information. Plagiarism also includes using (or sharing) others' essays, quizzes, etc., re-using your own work, and the use of pre-written, purchased, or downloaded materials. If there is ever a question on this issue, please ask me in advance of submitting the work since once it is submitted, I will act strongly to enforce academic standards. Plagiarism can result in Failure as a final course grade. All written assignments will be submitted prior to the class period in which it is due (all submissions are due on Wednesday's by 3:20 pm unless otherwise noted).

Make up Policy: Tests and written assignments typically cannot be made up. All work is due on the designated day – this includes absences for weddings, vacations/trips, doctor's visits, interviews, business/work, etc. Please schedule your extra-curricular events around your course work. In the case of University of Hawai'i athletes, you need to notify me of your conflicts in advance so we can sort out alternative dates. In the case of written assignments, athletes will need to submit these in advance of scheduled time away from campus. You need to take responsibility for dealing with these issues. My policy is that late submissions will be accepted up to one week after the due date and will be penalized half a letter grade. After one week, late work will no longer be accepted. In the case of emergencies or extreme personal difficulty (e.g., major car accident, sudden acute illness), work may be made up. See me as soon as possible in these situations, and try to notify me as soon as possible.

ADA Statement: If you have a disability for which you will need accommodations in this class, please let me know as soon as possible. Any student who feels they may need an accommodation based on the impact of a disability is invited to contact me privately. I would be happy to work with you, and the KOKUA Program (Office for Students with Disabilities) to ensure reasonable accommodations in my course. KOKUA can be reached at (808) 956-7511 or (808) 956-7612 (voice/text) in room 013 of the Queen Lili'uokalani Center for Student Services. If you do not have an ADA-documented disability but there is something which I can do to assist you in the classroom, please speak to me and I will try to work with you to ease the difficulty.

Requests for Reevaluation: The burden of proof in a reevaluation of graded work rests with you. Before meeting with me, a rationale for a different grade should first be submitted in writing by e-mail. This should identify the specific concerns/changes and provide detailed evidence in support of your argument for a different grade. Requests for reevaluation must be made within 10 days of the student's receipt of the graded item.

Course Assignments & Grading: to pass the course, you must complete all assignments

- 5 Short papers, 15 points each (30%)
- Midterm, 50 points (20%)
- Final paper, 50 points (20%)
- Final Group Project, 50 points (20%)
- Free write notebook (attendance grade), 25 points (10%)

Short papers: Throughout the semester each student will be responsible for writing 5 short papers. A writing workshop will take place during class at the beginning of the semester. This will include information literacy material including how to conduct academic research and how to evaluate research material. Short papers should be at least 3 (~803 words) pages in length. Sometimes short papers will be prompted with specific questions; other times students will develop their own topics. Please follow ASA or APA formatting for any citations used. All of the due dates for the written assignments are in the course schedule. Students will receive written feedback for the short papers approximately one week after the due date regarding content, grammar, and organization. A rubric for short papers will be posted in Laulima. An outline of what is expected for each reflection and the due date will also be posted in Laulima. Students will submit an electronic copy of their short papers in google drive before class (by 3:20pm).

Test: There will be one midterm exam for this course. The test will be essay based, and all class material may be included on the exam. A study guide will be provided at least one week prior to the scheduled exam (see course schedule).

Final paper: Each student will be required to write a final (individual) paper related to the topic of their final group project. Final papers will be research based, and students will be required to incorporate at least 6 academic sources. At least two of these sources should be class readings. During the semester students will be required to evaluate and informally present 2 of their academic sources to their group mates (10 pts.) Final papers should be 5-6 pages (~1385 words) in length and follow ASA or APA formatting (40 pts.) Details for the final paper and final project will be given to students later in the semester. NOTE: Students will be required to do research for their final paper and project. Outside sources are a requirement. A rubric for the final paper will be posted in Laulima.

Note for Written Assignments: You need to take responsibility for working in advance of the due dates and contact me for assistance if you are having difficulty in understanding or completing your assignments. I am always willing to arrange for office hours and discussions in advance of deadlines. Last-minute requests will find me less sympathetic. See the above section for late policies.

Final Group Project: Throughout the semester students will work on final group projects related to a topic on gender violence. Students will be required to do research throughout the semester, and a minimum 2-page group outline will be due mid-semester (each group member should write at least 1 full page; 15 pts. toward your final group project grade.) For the group projects students will be able to choose from a variety of mediums including PowerPoints, PSA style videos, and a poster that represents the topic. The final presentation including your form of medium and your interactive component is worth 30 pts. More details will be provided in class closer to the due dates. Note: students will be graded individually for their portion of the final project. You will get the final say in your overall group dynamic (group member evaluations: 5 pts.) This means that if your group has 3 people, it is possible for each person to receive a different grade for their final group project (grading details will be given later in the semester). Additionally, students will have the opportunity to rearrange the make-up of their group around the time the group outline is due if they present me with a sufficient written argument. A rubric for the final group project as well as the group outline will be posted in Lualima.

Free write notebook: At the beginning of each class students will be required to write for approximately 5-15 minutes based on a weekly prompt. The prompts will vary in topic and brevity, but overall the free write notebook is 1) how students will earn an attendance grade and 2) a way for students to demonstrate that they have done the weekly readings. Each notebook entry will be worth approximately 2 points, and there will be 14 entries total. This means that each student may have one unexcused absence during the semester and still receive full credit for the free write notebook assignment. All other absences will be considered on a case by case basis.

At the University of Hawai'i – Mānoa, "student achievement is designated by the following grades A+, A, A- (excellent), B+, B, B- (above average), C+, C, (average), C-, D+, D, D- (minimal passing), [and] F (failure)" (<http://www.catalog.hawaii.edu/undergrad-ed/creditsGrades.htm>). A-level grades recognize outstanding achievement and are not rewarded for mere submission of required work.

For this course, percentages can be translated into grades, using the following conversion: A+ (97-100), A (93-96), A- (90-92), B+ (87-89), B (83-86), B- (80-82), C+ (77-79), C (73-76), C- (70-72), D+ (67- 69), D (63-66), D- (60-62), and F (below 60).

Reminder: Course schedule and readings for Spring 2018 are both subject to modification. Required materials are to be read before the class. Please be prepared to participate.

Note: We will not necessarily cover each reading in class discussions. You are responsible for the content of all materials (readings, videos, lectures, guest presentations, etc.) in your written assignments, test, essays, and group project. This means that you need to ask questions to promote discussion about anything that you find difficult to understand. Readings listed for the week should be completed before class on Wednesday.

Note: Because this class is writing intensive, we will discuss a writing tip or trick each week. Students are responsible for this material and for implementing these writing techniques into their assignments when appropriate.

Classroom Expectations Agreement:

I understand that as a student in this course it is my responsibility to treat everyone in the class with respect, even when they have a different opinion. I understand that it is an expectation for me to listen to others, to not interrupt peers, and to not pressure other classmates to conform to my beliefs or to discuss topics beyond their comfort level. I will not talk to my neighbor excessively or use a cell phone while in class. I understand that I will lose points and may be asked by the instructor to leave if I do this. I agree to adhere to all of the expectations set forth in the classroom contract and will contact the instructor if I have any problems with these expectations.
