This course provides an overview of contemporary Chinese society with a particular focus on social changes in Reform-era China (1978-present). During the first several weeks, we examine some basic aspects of Chinese geography, history, politics, and economy that should form the backdrop for an analysis of Chinese society today. Then, we move on to discussing various aspects of contemporary Chinese society since the beginning of the policy of Reform and Opening from population growth and urbanization, environmental issues, family, kinship, marriage, and sexuality, to film, literature, and popular culture. Then, in the final few weeks of the course, we will think critically about what the social changes China has been experiencing in the past 25 years mean to several crucial issues that China and the world face today: the fate of the Chinese party-state, the possible emergence of civil society and prospects for democracy, issues of human rights, environment, and international security concerns.

Required Text

- Robert E. Gamer, ed. 2008. Understanding Contemporary China (Third Edition). Boulder: Lynne Rienner Publishers, Inc. (available at UH Bookstore)
- Readings available at Laulima (students download themselves). Marked with @ in the reading list.

Course Requirements and Grades

Final grades will be based on performance on the following five items:

(1) An in-class mid-term exam (30%).

• Tuesday, March 1, 10:30-11:45 am.

• Details TBA.

• Could consist of identifications, short answers, and/or essay questions based on readings, lecture, and other class activities.

• We'll have a thorough review session before the exam.

(2) A final research paper (30%).

• Approximately 8-10 pages long.

• The final research paper will be on a topic chosen by you in consultation with the professor.

• The paper must address a question raised by the lecture, readings, and class discussions, and must make use of primary source materials.

• Submit potential research topics to Laulima, Drop Box on or before Tuesday, March 8 by 11:59 pm.

• Due: Tuesday, May 3 by 11:59 pm at Laulima, Drop Box. Papers turned in after the due date will be lowered 1/3 of a letter grade for each day late.

(3) A take-home final exam (30%).

• Take-home final exam questions distributed in class on Tuesday, May 3.

• Due: Thursday, May 12 by 11:45 am at Laulima, Drop Box. No late submissions accepted.
