Director of the Hawaii Research Center for Futures Studies Jim Dator Visits PUBA Core Year Cohort

Date: April 2008

Director of the Hawaii Research Center for Futures Studies, and Professor of Political Science, Jim Dator, began his annual Futures Module in the Core Year of the Public Administration Program on April 29th (2008). The Futures Module concludes the Core Year by exposing students the basic concepts and tools of Futures Studies, encouraging public administrators to consciously and deliberately incorporate the ideas into their organizations’ work. Dator is a globally recognized leader and scholar in the field and a member of PUBA’s advisory board.
