CEO of the YWCA of Hawai’i Cheryl Kauhane Speaks to PUBA 662 Class

Date: January 2008

Cheryl Kauhane, the CEO of the YWCA of Hawai’i was recently was a guest in "Strategies of Change: Leaders and Leadership." Ms. Kauhane had prior experience in the for-profit sector, and moved from a larger local company to start a small restaurant in the downtown Honolulu YWCA. Seven years ago she was appointed CEO and since then has coordinated a number of initiatives to refine and focus the YWCA’s mission and organizational processes. She has been a guest in PUBA 622 a number of times. This visit was an opportunity for her to reflect on the comparative influence of gender, ethnicity, social class and family history in shaping her values and how she does things.
